2X4's in PERRY

TRUCKS ARE TIGHT!

Timely delivery of loads continues to be a problem into early fall. Continually rising fuel prices have increased fuel surcharges and have adversely affected prices of delivered lumber. Tennessee and Florida still take a week to find a carrier. OSB and plywood loads are paying for needed delivery. You can minimize this problem by ordering a week in advance. Getting your stock delivered to you when you need it is a priority with us.

Lee Duke has left Tolleson Lumber Company to begin a new career. We hope he has plenty of time for golf, too! Good luck, Lee. We'll miss you.

Three Generations of Pierces

During the summer of 2002, Tolleson Lumber had three generations of employees. Ed Pierce, Vice-President and Treasurer of the company, began his employment with Tolleson in January of 1946. Ed's son Jon, an account executive for the sales office, joined Tolleson in May of 1984. Jon's son David (now a full-time college student) worked during the summer of 2002 as a part-time summer employee. Cap Tolleson (original owner and founder of Tolleson) would be proud of this family tradition.
